IPSWICH HIGH SCHOOL YEARBOOK 1978

DEDICATION

We, the class of 1978, dedicate this yearbook to:

The Unsung Senior,
who faithfully suffered
through four years of Ipswich High School and —

- . . . went door to door peddling raffle tickets,
- . . . stamped endless hands at dances,
- . . . baked and helped sell the food at grocery store bake sales,
- . . . stood freezing all night, day and weekend, selling Christmas trees,
- . . . helped to bake pies, deliver them and collect the money before Thanksgiving,
- . . . convinced people that they really needed to buy an Ipswich Tiger pennant,

. . . donated blood, or time, to the bloodmobile,
. . . drew, painted, hung up, or otherwise added to the hall decorations,
. . . helped clean up after the cotillion,
. . . collected attic treasures to sell at the flea market and book sale,
. . . stayed for assemblies and pep rallies to represent our class,
. . . went all over town collecting money for the patron drive (and then missed the pizza),
. . . gave their best to or supported the I.H.S. sports program,
. . . and helped shape the personality of the I.H.S. class of 1978 — not soon to be forgotten!

Quiet streets
 Gulls that cry and soar
 History stands still
 The ocean meets the shore
 Church spires reaching to the heavens
 Seventeenth century looms still active in weaving their story
 "Our Little Town"

This is our Ipswich as we will remember it.

IN MEMORY OF

Norbert V. White
(1916-1977)

We are remembering a man who exemplified years of service to his community as a local dairyman, businessman and who, more recently, served briefly as selectman before his untimely death.

As the symbol of the "White Farms cow" stood for the happy carefree days of the summer to every child in this community, so did Mr. White stand for integrity and friendliness to every adult in this community. We honor him here as a part of Ipswich that will never be forgotten.

We talk about the importance of understanding,
And then, fail to understand what is important.
We talk about listening, and then, do not talk.
We talk about talking, and then, do not listen.
We talk about learning from our experience,
And then fail to remember last year,
Let alone yesterday.

ADIEU, MES AMIS . . .

What is the legacy of a High School Education ? This is a weighty question which we could ponder profoundly. A diploma is only the visible and tangible proof of four years of learning. After it is firmly arranged in some scrapbook or frame, to be shown to approving relatives and friends, we are left with ourselves, our minds, our capabilities and our skills. Have we learned, along with our academic knowledge, how to live and to share, how to care and to give, how to love and to grow? Are we witness to the truths, and inspirational ideas implanted in our minds during these past four years?

Hopefully, as we say goodbye, we can look with confidence to our future, knowing that our teachers have tried their very best to impart to us, not only learning, but values, convictions and ideals.

Each one of us has taken a different direction in terms of extra-curricular activities. To some, it has been the playing field and the gym. To others, it is the stage, the lights and the music. Yet to others, it is the marching rhythm of the band, the harmonizing of voices, or the creating of self-expressive works of art.

Now, we are finally standing together as one group, for we have one thought in mind, and one goal to attain. This goal is the esteemed title of "Graduate," the wearing of our cap and gown, the acceptance of the long-awaited diploma, the smiles on the faces of our parents and friends and the approving glances of faculty members and advisors.

Our high school days have come to a close, and each of us is left with his own personal thoughts. Perhaps, without even realizing it we have become the adult that the outside world demands. Each one of us has attained a measure of personal growth. Perhaps the German poet, Johann Schiller, expressed it best when he wrote, "It is only through the morning gate of the beautiful that you can penetrate into the realm of knowledge. That which we feel here as beauty, we shall one day know as truth."

THE COMPANY

The Company's production of William Shakespeare's A MIDSUMMER NIGHT'S DREAM was certainly the most ambitious, and to some, the most successful, show which its director and members have undertaken and presented. Undoubtedly, it was our largest show, in relation to cast size. Our fall show will also be remembered as it marks the longest rehearsal schedule to date—almost four months. This is not to say that these weeks were dull or boring. Those long nights in the dreary school cafeteria were enlivened by many incidents such as our Mr. Wonderful Pageant, our queen's sleep walking habits, the whining of our cast member "Benjamin," a certain cast member's uncontrollable laughing fits, and the ever present fear that some unfortunate fairy may literally come tripping down that dreaded ramp.

We were most grateful to have the talents of Taylor Armerding and John Richards. Their performances added greatly to the Shakespearean atmosphere of the play.

When the director, cast and crew of A MIDSUMMER NIGHT'S DREAM look back, we will remember those long months of rehearsal, but even moreso, we will remember the four rewarding nights that made it all worthwhile.

THAT STOPPED US COLD

SPORTS

This has truly been "The Year of the Tiger" in Ipswich athletics.

We are always proud of our teams. Participation is always high, and team spirit and the thrill of competition and striving to excel have long been the heart and soul of I.H.S. teams.

Scholarship and pride in our school are important components that have led to success over the years.

We are equally proud of our coaching staff. The dedication of our coaches in all sports has sparked rapport with players that is vital, not only for success in competition, but in enhancing the school spirit which has been unique to Ipswich.

This year our fall sports team continued the Tiger tradition on competition. They — boys' and girls' soccer, field hockey, boys' and girls' cross-country, and football teams — gave one hundred percent throughout the season.

Highlight of the fall, of course, was our exceptionally fine football team with a record of ten and one. The heart breaking loss to Newburyport in mid-season was recouped on December 3rd when the mighty Tigers downed the Newburyport Clippers by a score of 54-13 in the Super Bowl game at Boston College Alumni Stadium. It was a victory and a day which will be remembered forever. The team was led by Captain Bernard Adell, one of the most sought-after high school players in the country, a fine leader, respected by his team mates and all of us at I.H.S. We look forward to following Bernard's career at Notre Dame.

At this writing our girls' varsity basketball and our boys' varsity hockey have reached the state tournament competition. Both the wrestling and boys' basketball enjoyed good seasons.

The spring should bring more success with a good nucleus returning for boys' and girls' track, boys' and girls' tennis, baseball, softball, lacrosse, and golf.

We are proud of the class of 1978 and all the contributions it has made in all aspects of school life. We wish them all the best.

The delicate shells lay on the shore;
The bubbles of the latest wave
Fresh pearls to their enamel gave,
And the bellowing of the savage sea
Greeted their safe escape to me.
I wiped away the weeds and foam,
I fetched my sea-born treasures home;
But the poor, unsightly, noisome things
Had left their beauty on the shore
With the sun and the sand and the wild uproar.

A friend is a person with whom I may be sincere. Before him I may think aloud. I am arrived at last in the presence of a man so real and equal that I may drop even those undermost garments of dissimulation, courtesy, and second thought, which men never put off, and may deal with him with the simplicity and wholeness with which one chemical atom meets another. Sincerity is the luxury allowed, like diadems and authority, only to the highest rank, THAT being permitted to speak the truth, as having none above it to court or conform unto. Every man alone is sincere. At the entrance of a second person, hypocrisy begins. We parry and fend the approach of our fellow man by compliments, by gossip, by amusement, by affairs. We cover up our thought from him under a hundred folds . . . But a friend is a sane man who exercises not my ingenuity, but me. My friend gives me entertainment without requiring me to stoop, or to lisp, or to mask myself. A friend therefore is a sort of paradox in nature. I who alone am, I who see nothing in nature whose existence I can affirm with equal evidence to my own, behold now the semblance of my being, in all its height, variety, and curiosity, reiterate in a foreign form; so that a friend may well be reckoned the masterpiece of nature.

The horizon, a line
Between Heaven, and earth
Which separates me
From God's Universe.

A gull wings its way,
Disappears from my view,
Flies past the horizon
Like the love I once knew.

But my love, like the seagull
Though I see him no more
Has flown surely, and swiftly
To some distant shore--
To a spiritual land
Where happiness reigns,
Full of sunshine and glory,
Minus death--minus pain.

Winter interloped last night
poked icy fingers at the trees,
made them tremble, made them sneeze
And drop their leaves in fright.

He scrawled graffiti on my pane,
icy webs he flung around
(fragile gems upon the ground)
And drove the mums insane.

He left the pumpkins all aglow,
and laughed to see the turnips pout
for the sun to thaw them out
Before he had to go.

There is a time in every man's education when he arrives at the conviction that envy is ignorance; that imitation is suicide; that he must take himself for better, for worse, as his portion; that though the wide universe is full of good, no kernal of nourishing corn can come to him but through his toil bestowed on that plot of ground which is given him to till. The power which resides in him is new in nature, and none but he knows what he can do, nor does he know until he has tried.
